EASTERNER
1966

Edited by Senior Annual Staff
Eastside High School
Butler, Indiana
Volume 3

Athletic events, academic challenges and social activities were all part of a student's life at Eastside during the 1966 school year. Every day brought unexpected joys and heartaches as students prepared assignments, groaned at term papers and waited for the bell to announce that there was one less day of school to endure.

As the year progressed we increased our knowledge in courses ranging from English to Chemistry and Art to Home Economics. Each season brought excitement to fans and opposition to foes. Homecoming was observed during the football season for the first time.

And then winter was upon us and along with it Hoosier Hysteria, the basketball season. As the students waited anxiously for the end of the week, the pep sessions fired them up in anticipation of the game. Undoubtedly the most exciting event for Eastsiders this year was the winning of the Sectional.

It was only with the coming of warm days and spring fever that our excitement and energy slowed down. Spring also brought the long awaited Junior-Senior Prom. In May all was over and we looked back at the events that were part of our school year as WE TRAVELLED EASTSIDE '66'.

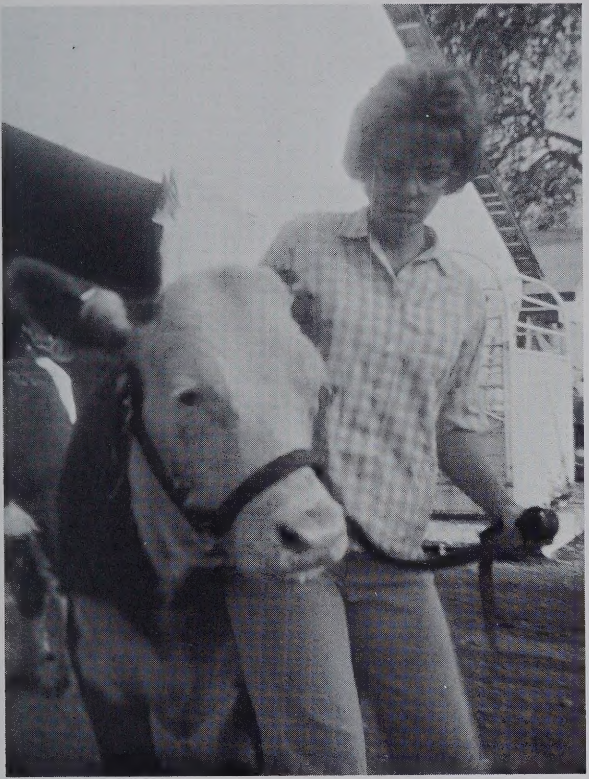
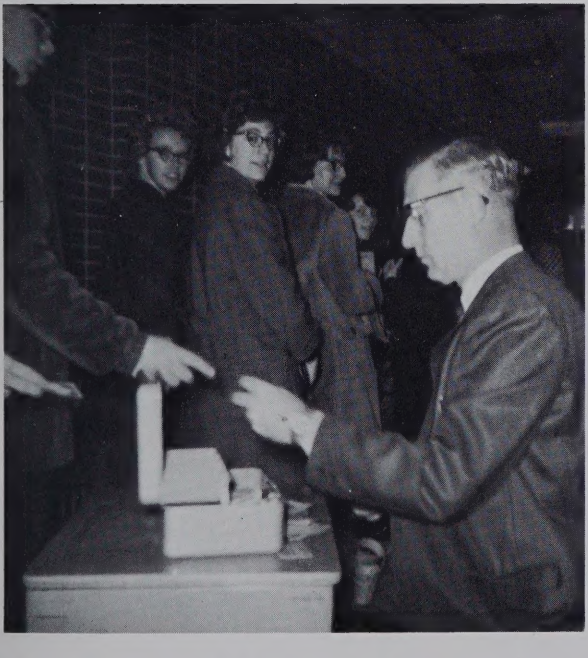
SEPTEMBER-ANOTHER YEAR BEGINS



"Whoa, boy and please get off my foot!"

He's got it made now, the road is going straight and the car is too.



I'm sorry I don't accept wooden nickles.

BRINGING HARD WORK AND EXCITEMENT

"He made it."

"Please Jim, I know it was a rough weekend but you're on my government paper."

Dennis slurps from the Fountain of knowledge in the EHS main hall.

"Dickey, the man's taking a picture."
"Smile, Tommy."

MAY-THE TREK OF 66 IS OVER

Midge, Pam and Judy discuss the problems of the day and plans for tomorrow.

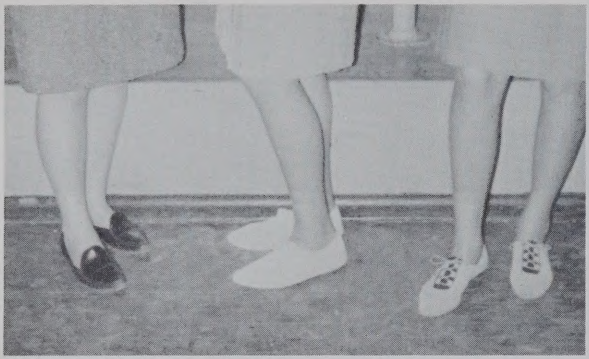
These boys talk over the possibilities of Tom's new CHARGER.

Pucker up, Mr. Morrisson, the next one is higher!

Janet Capp helps her judge give firsts.

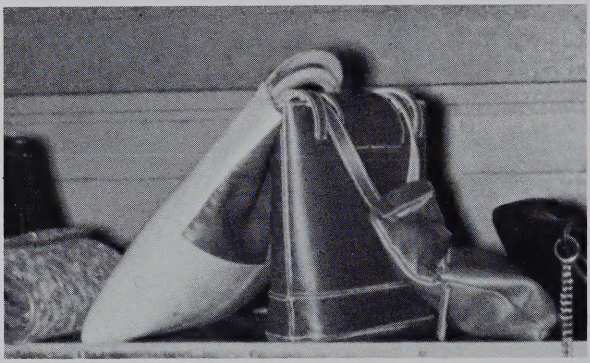
Smile boys, this one is for the annual!

FADS AND FASHIONS



Fashionable shoes are displayed here.

We can never forget the stacked heels, loafers, and tennis shoes, matched skirts and sweaters, jumpers, and bulky sweaters; and boy's sweaters of all sizes, shapes and colors; the large suitcase, the compact, and the multi-colored purses. These all went together to complete the large and fashionable wardrobe of Eastside.



A display of a girl's most needed accessory.

The latest craze in boy's sweaters are seen here.

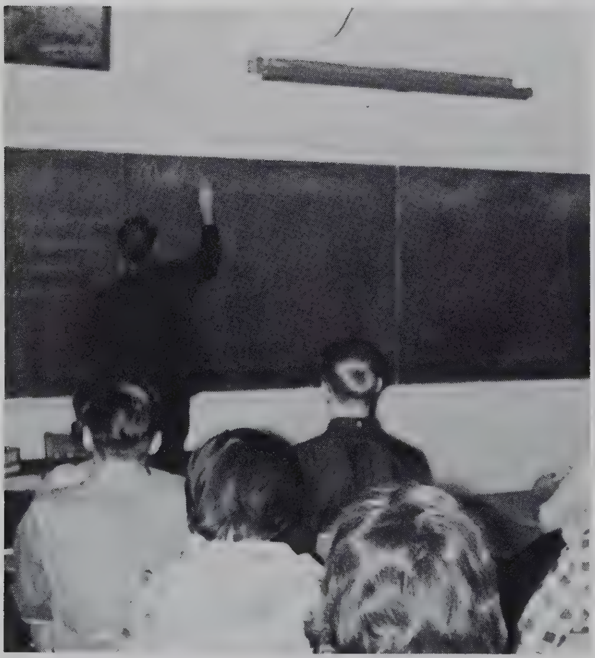
The latest fads are modeled here by several Eastside girls.

ACADEMIC

It seems that Mr. Dickens junior English Class is reading a very humerous novel or did Dennis and Mike add an additional chapter.

Mr. Lowry seems to be holding the sophomores attention, during English Class, by giving examples on the blackboard.

ENGLISH IS TAUGHT THROUGH



Mr Wilder leads the combined Senior English and Government classes as they study communism.

English, a combination of speeches, themes, bookreports, term papers and literature, is an all-important subject for every student. Our able staff of Mrs. Eddy, Mrs. Hampel, Mr. Dicken, Mr. Lowry, Mrs. Adams, and Mr. Moreland, try their best to help us learn to express ourselves correctly and fluently.

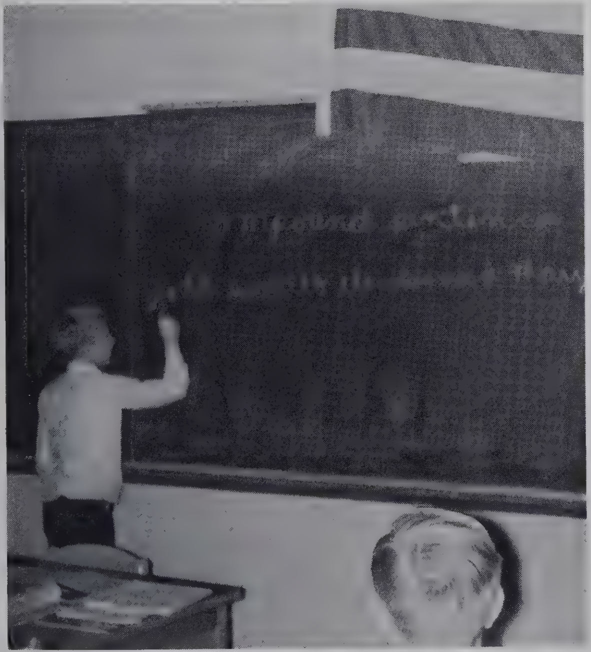
No matter what profession a student may go into after graduation a good knowledge of English will help him be better prepared for the future.

Compliments of A. E. HULLINGER, KNAPP SHOE DEALER

Tom Seltenright gives an inspiring book report to the Freshman English Class.

These Seniors are deeply engrossed in writing their English term papers.

COMPOSITIONS, LITERATURE, GRAMMAR



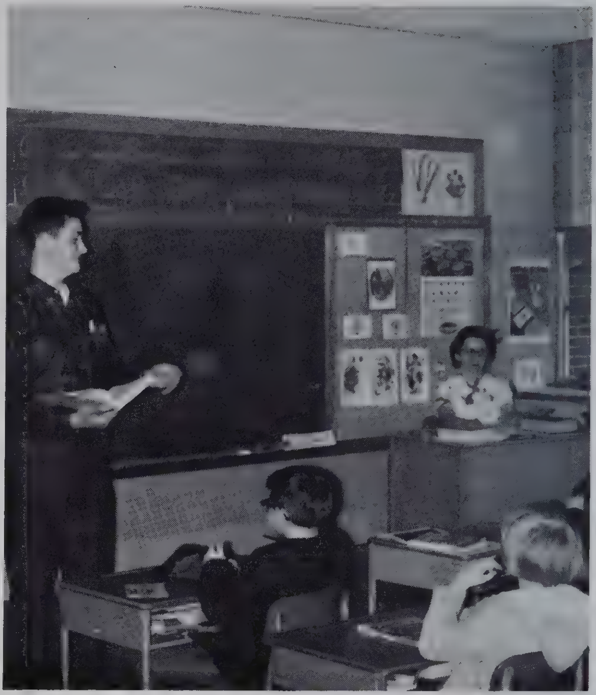
Giving an example of a compound sentence to the eighth grade English class is Kevin Houser.

Mr. Lowry waits for questions from his Sophomore English class before he resumes his lecture.

Compliments of MAXTON MOTORS, INC.

EXPLORATORY TEACHING

Here Marcia Meyer helps her second-graders improve their reading ability.



Max Pierson provides a break from studies by reading a short story.

A subject rarely chosen by a large percentage of students has proven very informative and worthwhile to nine seniors this year. Their instructor was Mr. Johnston and each student had a cooperating teacher. Their duties varied from making out tests, grading papers and preparing tomorrow's assignments. Each student was required to teach a grade or class and for this they received a grade according to their procedure. The class let one take a look from the side of the teachers and allowed the student to decide if he had chosen the correct career.

Compliments of GUINNUPS BEAUTY SHOP

The Social Studies courses offered at Eastside include U.S. History, Government, World History, and World Geography. From stone age to stockade age to space age, the students are given first hand information from our capable staff of Mr. Wilder, Mr. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. Adams points out a famous battle site to her U.S. History class.

EVENTS OF PAST AND PRESENT

The senior government classes relax between stops during a field trip to the county jail and courthouse.

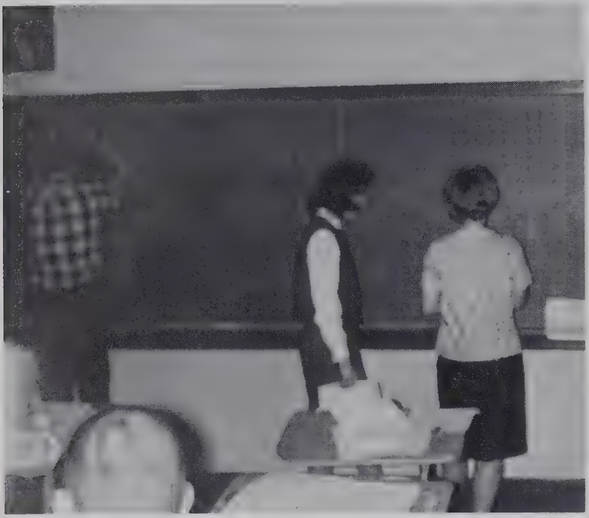
Vickie Belanger and Jim Graham search for places of interest on the map in world history.

Compliments of BUTLER SHELL SERVICE

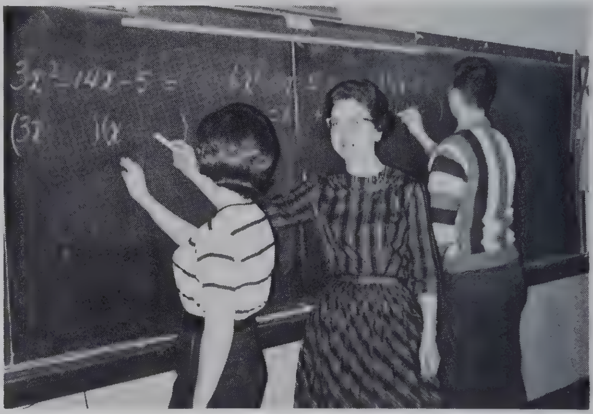
MATHEMATICS INVOLVES EVERYONE

Here at Eastside, a complete and varied program of math is offered. When a student enters E.H.S., they are given a choice of courses. General math and algebra are given to the freshmen. Plane geometry is offered to the sophomores and advanced algebra to the juniors. If a student wants four years of math, as a senior, he may take trigonometry and college algebra.

The math department is guided by Mrs. Culler, Mrs. Schubert and Mr. Bedwell.

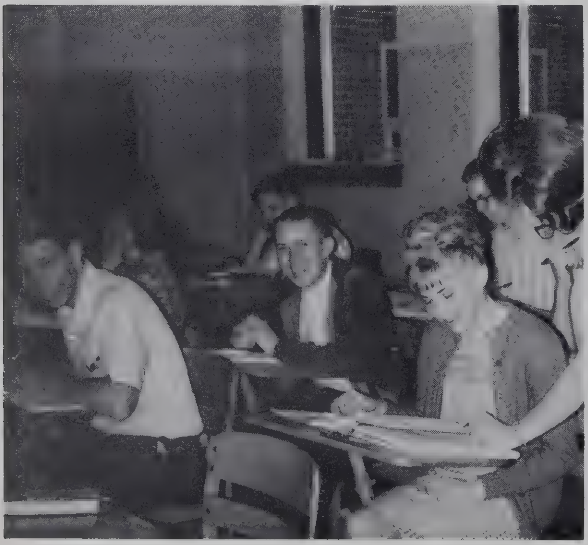


Mrs. Culler gives Janet Capp some helpful hints on her geometry construction, while Gene Flueckinger makes rapid progress on his.



Mrs. Schubert quizes Cindy Staley on her algebra problem as Dennis Hart experiments on his own.

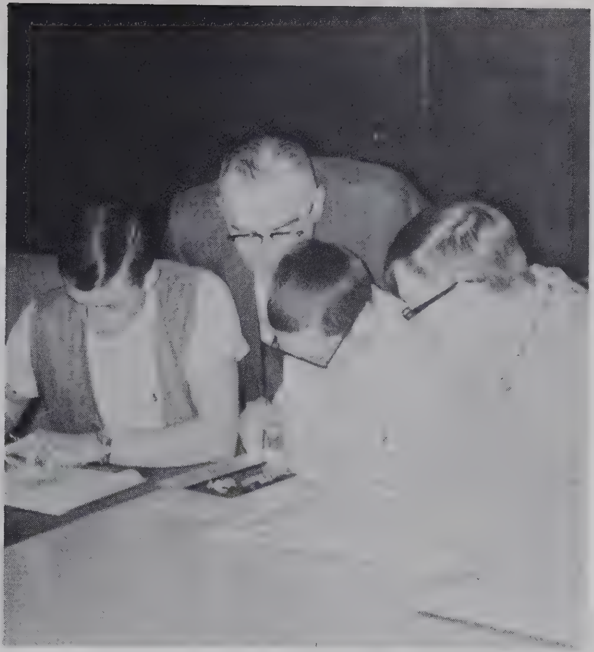
Mrs. Culler helps Kathy Laub as Terry Ulm and Chuck Smith find some amusing results with their college algebra problems.



Mrs. Culler proves a theorem in advanced algebra before making an assignment.

Compliments of KNISELY MENS WEAR

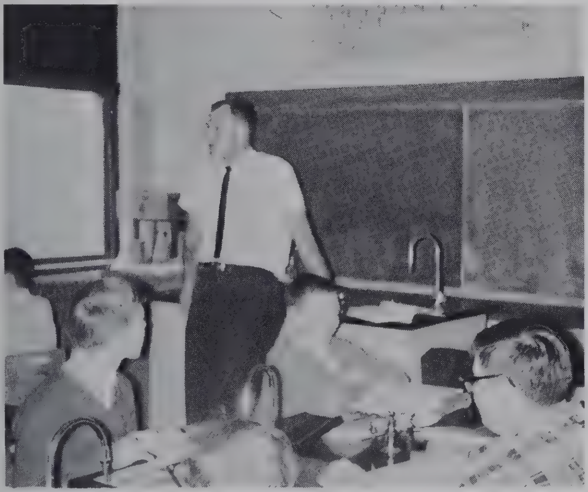
Les Strong and Paul Berndt use their intensified knowledge of physics as Jerry Ladd, Terry Ulm and Mike Loy hold their breath.



Steve Baughman and Earl Mutzfeld assist Robert Gengnagel in disecting a frog as biology teacher, Mr. Conkey gives some last minute advice.

SCIENCE

Eastside's Science department includes several general, as well as advanced courses. Some of these are general science, chemistry biology and physics. Mr. Dilling, Mr. Bracht, Mr. Conkey and Mr. Severson are the teachers responsible for instructing these classes.



Mr. Severson lectures general science students on the importance of science in today's world.

Juniors, Jeff Myers, Nan Shockley and Kay Rediger finish up another chemistry lab.

Compliments of PAUL LANE, INC.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Second year Spanish students study vocabulary for an upcoming test.

One is no longer greeted at Eastside with a simple American hello, but instead with one from South America or France.

Mrs. Posey and Mr. Sherer are the teachers given credit for the Spanish and French classes.

This year language labs have been set up so that a foreign language student could study the language during his study hall by listening to tapes. Through foreign languages, students learn about other countries in various ways which prove very informing and interesting for the students.

Language lab makes the study of Spanish more enjoyable.

French students strive to master the language.

Compliments of MARSHALL CLOTHING MANUFACTURING CO., INC.

These shorthand students learn to translate, which is sometimes quite interesting!

Mr. Hansen answers Carlyle Holman's perplexing bookkeeping problem.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

For the students interested in the business courses at Eastside, a very extensive commerce program is offered to them. This program helps to prepare the students for the business world. Included in the program are bookkeeping, typing shorthand and office practice.

The commerce department is under the able direction of Mr. Hansen and Mrs. Overmyer.

Linda McCann and Cathy Delong rehearse the steps for operating a copy machine in office practice.

"This is indented," says Mrs. Overmeyer as she rescues Barbara Schmidt and Gloria Harter.

AGRICULTURE
INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Our shop program under the direction of Mr. Bracht and Mr. Smith offers mechanical drawing, metal work and woodworking. They learned tool identification and the use of many machines that will help make them better workers for our local factories.

Mrs. Rufner and Mrs. Rowlett head the home economics department at Eastside. Cooking, sewing and interior decorating are just a few of the topics.

The agricultural department is headed by Mr. Guinther. Under his supervision and guidance the boys have learned how to take care of livestock as well as the many different ways of farming and related occupations. They have also formed an excellent livestock judging team which brought back many honors from area contests.

Bob Evonoff, Jim Stemen, Ken Geyer and Mike Sebert prove that Ag. isn't all bookwork.

Member's of Eastside's FFA Livestock Judging Team were Tom Stemen, Joe Creager, Tom Bowman, Steve Culler, Mike Storer, Sam Littlejohn, and Ron Kitchen.

Mike Storer, Ron Kitchen, Tom Bowman and Sam Littlejohn scored 1,216 points to win the DeKalb County 4-H and FFA Livestock Judging Contest.

Judy Moore and Melody Carper demonstrate the proper way to prepare and serve tea cookies.

Pat Huff prepares her favorite recipe before the freshmen Home Ec. girls.

Preparing an intricate design for Mechanical Drawing are Dennis Oberlin, Randy Houser and Steve Baughman.

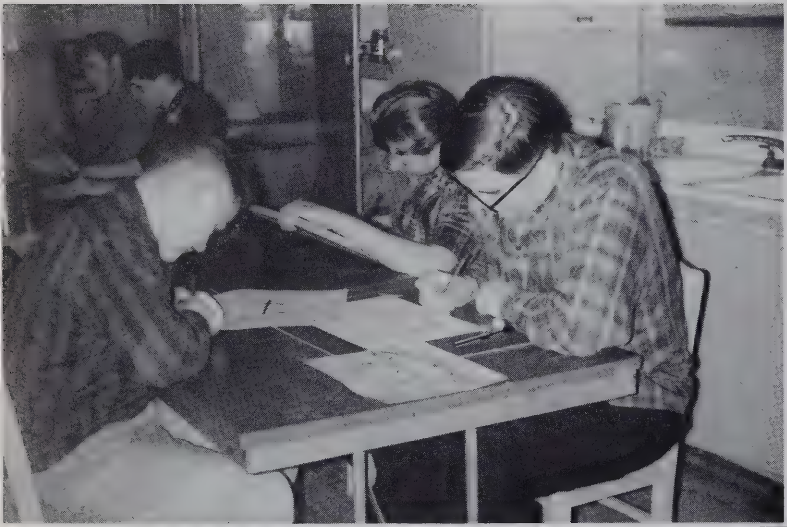
Mike Fankhouser, Kenny Furnish and Pinky Fish put the finishing touches on their rifle stocks for shop.

ART

The Art Department considered to be one of the most interesting and rewarding activities in our school, has once again lead a busy and most prosperous year.

Throughout the school year, with the aid of Miss Briegel, we had achieved many goals and ambitions thought to be impossible before learning the skills necessary to achieve a project of satisfaction.

One of our creative classes in art.



Bob Lehner, John Keith and Tim Hummon put the final touches on their landscapes.

Working with clay can be lots of fun as Rachel Kaiser, Linda Craig and Dick Mack find out.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Both girls and boys are kept very active in physical education classes.

The girls, under the direction of Mrs. Hood, learn basketball, soccer, badminton and volleyball to stay in shape and to keep active.

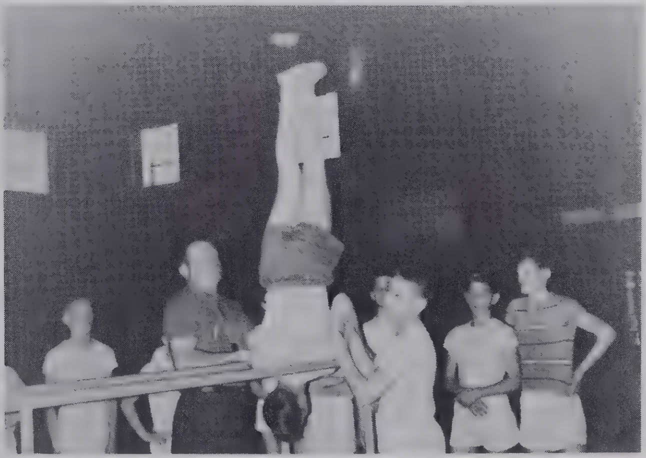
Mr. Templeton teaches the boys basketball, baseball, calisthenics, and tumbling to keep fit.

Eastside requires at least two years of Phys. Ed., but additional years may be taken if desired. The nice thing about Phys. Ed. is that kids are having fun while they are becoming healthier by using up some of that excess energy.

Mrs. Hood, girl's physical education teacher, gives instruction on the fundamentals of badminton.

Nothing to it says Diana Oberlih as she does a head stand.

Randy Bercaw next weight lifting champ?



Boy's physical education teacher, Jim Templeton, helps a student on the parallel bars.

Compliments of RALPH SECHLER and SON INC.

Miss Griffith keeps the shelves stalked with nice, new books for the students of Eastside.

Mr. Johnston explains the SAT test results to senior Terry Ulm.

LIBRARIAN AND GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

The students in study hall start to work while Terry Ulm checks attendance.

Assisting in the solving of all sorts and sizes of problems is our guidance councilor, Mr. Leonard Johnston.

He helps students with problems concerning school as well as their future plans.

Another helper is Miss Griffith, our librarian. Students when in distress know that they can turn to Miss Griffith for help.

Serving as a third helper is study hall. One might not think of it as a helper, but it serves a great purpose for students find that one study hall a day helps cut the homework at night.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Council is to present the students' viewpoints to the faculty and coordinate activities between the faculty and student body. The Student Council, through its members, tries to raise school spirit, uphold school policies and standards, and coordinate activities between various clubs in the school.

For the first time at Eastside, a student handbook was published by the Council this year. The Council also amended the constitution and made it a law that a student handbook be published each year for the students. The Council also regulated the Homecoming activities which took place in September. Under the very capable assistance of Mr. Wilder, the Council had an enjoyable, as well as, successful year.

OFFICERS: Dennis Reinoehl, Pres.; Joanne Miller, Sec.-Treas.; Mike Loy, V. Pres.

Preparations for this year's annual began a year ago when the staff visited a Journalism Workshop at Valparaiso University. Under the leadership of Jim Blume, editor, the staff put in many, long hectic hours to produce a truly memorable yearbook.

The talents of the staff included writers, photographers, salesmen, typists and proofreaders. Through the past years this staff has been labeled as dull and unexciting, but this year's staff disproved the theory for what is more enjoyable than getting out of class to sell subscriptions, help with pictures, run up town for supplies, and snapping a picture of someone off guard.

The purpose of the Easterner is to provide the students of Eastside with memories of the past year. This year's staff decided on a summer delivery so that the entire year could be captured and remembered for many years to come.

Mr. Sherer, Advisor; Diana Oberlin, Asst. Business Manager; Sheri Kaiser, Business Manager; Carole Bowman, Asst. Editor; Jim Blume, Editor.

The hard working Blazer staff has tried to establish a means of informing the students and faculty about activities taking place in and around the school.

Hard work during class periods and much extra time goes into producing the Blazer. All the long hours spent in putting out the paper are rewarded by the personal satisfaction one receives from the finished work.

SPANISH

CLUB

The Los Conquistadores under the direction of Mrs. Posey started the year with their annual initiation, and the Christmas Pinata party. With the help of speakers and films they continued their way to the May banquet featuring splendid Spanish food. For a project of sending a student to Mexico the members made a Student Directory and undertook the task of publishing a newspaper. The Conquistadores bid everyone a tired but happy "Adios" for 1966. The officers were Sheri Kaiser--Pres., Marcia Meyers--Vice Pres., Diana Oberlin--Sec., Ken Carnahan--Treas., Janet Sebert--Hist., Dennis Bloomfield--Reporter.

Sue Vogelpohl, Marcia Meyer, and Mary Provines anxiously wait as Tom Bowman prepares to break the "Pinata."

This year the Band has undertaken several different projects. After marching season it launched into the production of "My Fair Lady" with the Chorus, which was a tremendous success. Soon after that, the Band was busily involved with preparations for the solo and ensemble contest which was held at Eastside for the first time.

With the arrival of spring came the Concert Band contest and the Spring Concert. The "grand finale" of the year was the "Panorama of Music", given by the entire music department for two successful nights.

Next year the Band expects to do bigger and greater things, such as the possibility of a summer Band camp at which it will prepare marching shows for the football games.

The Eastside High School Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Geneene Morrisson produced sweet tones again this year. The members of the chorus competed in the NISBOVA contest held at Fort Wayne and the full chorus contest held at LaPorte. In February and March, they presented concerts at the area churches.

Members from this chorus also comprised the Girls Chorus, the Boys Chorus, the Keynotes, and the Swing Choir, both of which were newly formed this year, won many honors and much recognition as did the older established choirs.

The year was highlighted by the elaborate Panorama of Music which annually combines the talents of both the chorus and band.

Hip One! Hip Two! Hip Three! These words can be heard every day through the fall as coach Ken Severson and crew are sweating their hearts out for the honor of Eastside.

This first year of varsity competition was not too successful record wise but our boys gained a year of valuable experience needed in order to compete with "veteran" foes. Our boys showed they could stand up against larger opponents and never quit until the final gun has sounded. This year's only victory came at the Homecoming game as the Blazers defeated the Prairie Heights Panthers 34-7.

All for Eastside stand up and holler! The 1965-1966 basketball season was one for the Eastside fans to shout about as the Blazers finished the season with a 8-10 record and went on from there to win the Angola Sectional.

Back in November the Blazers began their regular season by winning three out of four and ending in Februrary losing three out of four. Then came the Angola Sectional where the Roushmen displayed the desire and the courage needed to win and did by beating three teams who had previously beaten the Blazers.

Throughout the season senior Bob Gerber led Eastside in scoring and rebounds with senior Terry Wilson second in both departments. Seniors Jim Miller and Dennis Reinoehl were third and fourth in scoring, respectively, with each contributing fine defensive plays. Another senior Mike Loy, although not a great scoring threat, contributed with his playmaking ability and defensive skills. There five seniors along with the other members of the team won for Eastside its first SECTIONAL TOURNEY CHAMPIONSHIP.

The 1965 baseball season was one of disappointment for Blazer players and fans alike. The season started with a loss to Woodlan by one run, this, as it turned out, was to be the trend of the entire season. The Blazers finished with a 10-10 record, good enough to finish third, tied for, in our conference. After beating Hamilton in a playoff for third place the Blazers lost to the eventual champion, Kendallville. Senior Terry Wilson lead the Blazers in hitting with two other seniors, Terry Ulm and Jim Miller, providing the RBI's. SUMMER GOVERNMENT

In the summer the American Legion sponsors a governmental program for boys and girls going into their Senior year. This worthwhile week was held at the I.U. campus during the month of June.

The girls and boys, gathered from all over the state, found new friends along with a vast knowledge of their government. The week's focal point was the final election of state and local officers.

Highlighting each day were special assemblies that entranced the interest of each individual. Finally these young representatives returned home with new knowledge, friends and understanding. They finished their new and fortunate experiences by relating to the sponsoring organization and the new representatives the marvelous experience.

Boy's State alternate was Jim Blume and Girl's State Alternates were Joanne Miller and Marcia Meyer.

Boy's State Representatives were Terry Ulm and Dennis Reinoehl.

Girl's State Representatives were Carole Bowman and Sheri Kaiser.

GUEST SPEAKERS AT EASTSIDE

At Eastside, the familiar sound of three bells summoned each student to the gymnasium. Convocations played an important part in our school lives. At our assemblies we were given instructions and pep talks by Mr. Myers to better improve our school life and ourselves.

Convos provided entertainment and diversion from the daily routine for all students. The Student Council sponsors three special assemblies each year for the students' and teachers' enjoyment.

HOMECOMING BRIGHTENS OUR PATH

Homecoming also had a new look this year. It was no longer held during the basketball season, it took place at the first home football game.

The electing of the candidates was done in three phases. First, a committee of seniors selected eight senior candidates. From these eight, the senior class chose five girls. These girls were then interviewed by the student body president before the entire school. The student body voted and the girl with the most votes became queen.

The crowning took place twice because the queen was Miss Eastside along with being Homecoming Queen. The crowning of Miss Eastside took place Friday evening in Butler. The queen was then crowned Homecoming Queen at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Our new Miss Eastside, Janie Betz, is happily crowned by last year's queen, Maria Gonzales.

"I'VE GROWN ACCUSTOMED

Over a month of rehearsing, worrying, and scrambling preceded the production of Lerner and Loewe's "My Fair Lady" by the Eastside Band and Chorus. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Morrisson, this musical comedy of cockney England assumed a new character as nearly all "Eastsiders" devoted a bit of themselves to the task of making it a success. The thirty members of the cast and another seventy participants concentrated on dance and choral numbers. Certainly not to be overlooked is the band of over twenty pieces which provided the instrumental accompaniment. The effective scenery was the result of diligent labor by the art department headed by Miss Briegel. "My Fair Lady" was the result of a united Eastside effort and it definitely contributed to a bond of fraternity among all who endeavored to make it the delightful adventure which it was.

Terry commends Mr. and Mrs. Morrisson for their ability, ingenuity, and patience while Jackie adds a big thanks from everyone.

April 30th was the day set for a magic night of good food, music, flowers, and loveliness. It began at the Mizpah Temple with the banquet and continued through the night at the beautifully decorated Eastside gymnasium. Following the theme, "Stairway to the Stars," the junior class outdid themselves in building a lavish setting. Also to develop the theme, were Sophomores dressed as gods and goddesses who served punch and cookies. The highlight of the prom was the crowning of Nanette Shockley and Tom Stemen as King and Queen, followed by the Grand March.

Sophomores, including Marty Searfoss and Dan Crow, represented gods and goddesses and served refreshments at the prom.

'THE MOUSE THAT ROARED"

A combination of talents was displayed April 1 and 2 as the Eastside Senior class presented the play, "The Mouse That Roared", by Christopher Sergel from the book by Leonard Wibberley.

A comedy in two acts, the story concerns a teeny-weeny country in Europe, The Duchy of Grand Fenwick. Grand Fenwick discovers that they are going bankrupt because the United States is copying their only export, wine, at a cheaper price. In order to get more money, Grand Fenwick decides to declare war on the U.S., losing, of course, and receiving a handsome sum of money for rehabilitation. However, they don't consider what happens when "Grand Fenwick wins!"

Under the excellent supervision of Mr. Dicken and management of Mike Loy and Dave Guinnup, our Seniors enjoyed and profited from a worthwhile experience that will long remain in the memories of those participating.

Directors of the Senior Class Play were Mr. Dicken, Dave Guinnup and Mike Loy.

SECTIONAL CHAMPS 1966

The Blazer basketball team led by Seniors Bob Gerber, Jim Miller, Terry Wilson, Dennis Reinoehl, Mike Loy and Junior Mike Dielman won the sectional championship for the first time in Eastside's history. Defeating Hamilton 53 to 51 and Fremont 45 to 38, the Blazers were able to reach the championship game on Saturday night. Here Eastside, following the instructions of Coach Roush and showing the drive and desire of a champion, defeated Waterloo 38 to 31 for the championship of the Angola Sectional Tourney.

PANORAMA

Since last year's Panorama was a smashing success, the Music Department decided to perform for two evenings instead of one. This year's theme, Music Through the Years, brought back memories for the adults and left the younger generation perplexed. The difference in songs as well as music was displayed by the various divisions of the Music Department. Again this year's Panorama was a success and this department deserves a fine congratulation.

SENIOR HONOR STUDENTS

Leaders of the school are found in the senior class. They set examples that the underclassmen see and follow. For this reason the awards for leadership and morals are set very high.

Requirements are based on the student and the role he has played during his high school years. Cooperation, attitude, reliability, leadership, and courtesy are the characteristics taken under consideration. The faculty gives the final vote for the citizenship awards.

The valedictorian and salutatorian are the seniors that end up with the highest average over their four years of training.

Living in a complex world, these students will make their life, and the lives of those around them more pleasant by the training and ideals taught them during their years at Eastside High School.

EXECUTIVE BODY

In his thirteenth and final year as superintendent of the DeKalb County Eastern Community School District, Ernest M. Zeller leaves with a fine record as a school administrator. Among his accomplishments in this area are the introduction of the student teaching program and the consolidation of the Butler and Riverdale schools. His successor, Mr. Kenneth Cole, is a highly respected member of the educational profession. We are happy to see so capable a man fill the position of our retiring superintendent.

With three years as principal of Eastside High School behind him, Kent Myers has spent many hours co-ordinating and carrying out school policy. Everyday problems such as scheduling, counseling and maintaining discipline are his responsibility. His greatest contribution to the school this year is the installation of the new flexible scheduling system. This has provided the school with a greater opportunity to make the most of its facilities.

Mr. Smith, in his role as principal and teacher, has sent forward many promising young men and women. He has successfully relocated the Riverdale Elementary so that now all Riverdale grade school children and Jr. Hi students are at the St. Joe building.

CLASS OFFICERS: Jane Yates, Sec.; Terry Ulm, Pres.; Joanne Miller, V. Pres.; and Cheri Howey, Treas.

The senior class of 1966, always conscious of its responsibilities as a leader, has striven endlessly to be a credit to Eastside High School. As acts of public service in the fall, the class painted two covered bridges, a classroom, and the Great Wall of Eastside.

Their enthusiasm in extracurricular activities was exhibited by the formation of a boys' booster block. By challenging the underclassmen to a contest, they united the drive to increase school spirit.

In the classroom, the seniors participated in an experimental team teaching program. Great Issues, a mock Congress, and student seminars filled their busy school hours. Again this year, also, the senior class published the school's Literary magazine, THE FLAME.

Rounding out the year in the spring, the senior class united its efforts in the production a highly successful play, THE MOUSE THAT ROARED.

Graduation day will see the departure of a class truly representative of the spirit of Eastside.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Midge Jennings, Pres.; Judy Lothamer, Sec.; Kathy Laub, Treas.; Tom Stemen, V.P.

In the fall, the junior class, showing great energy, surpassed all former school records in the magazine subscription sales by grossing $2000. This ferver continued throughout the entire school year as they made their presence felt in every phase of school life.

As a traditional fund raising project, they operated the concession stand at all of the home basketball games.

All the efforts of the junior class were then highlighted on the magic night of the Junior-Senior Prom. A lavish display of good will was showered upon their predecessors in memory of the year past.

As the class of 1967 ascends to the driver's seat, their zeal will surely not fail them.

Juniors Tom Stemen, Mike Beebe, Jerry Furnish, Danny Beatty, and Deborah Bell prepare for the "half-time coke crowd."

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS: Donna Guy, Sec.; Bill Wellendorf, V.P.; Skip Campbell, Pres.

The Sophomore class has had a lot of fun traveling Eastside 66. As usual, the highlight of their year was the ordering and receiving of class rings. Keeping busy with car washes, parties, and school activities the class has entered well into school and community life. With the largest class in high school this year, their influence could be felt in many ways.

The Sophomore car wash proved quite successful as those ambitious students, Tony Teutsch and Carolyn Lehner, illustrate among grease wrenches and soggy rags.

This group of eighth graders will someday be our Senior High Chorus. They are at the present time training for this future assignment. Their Main program this year was a concert presented in April.

Mrs. Morrison points out a few tricky bars in "My Fair Lady" to these eighth grade chorus students.

A large per cent of the 7th and 8th grade students at Riverdale are members of the Junior High Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Lusina McNall. A love of singing is the only requirement for membership. The Christmas Program and the Spring Revue were the highlights of the year. Many of the members took part in the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Solo and Ensemble Contest with much success.

This group was composed of fifty talented youngsters from both school districts. Their activities ranged from serving as alternates for the Senior Band, contest and marching. Two new groups were organized from these music lovers, they were a Dance Band and a Jr. Hi. Orchestra. Their main goal was preparation for the Senior High Band.

All together now--one, two, three.

MEMO FROM THE '66' STAFF . . .

We, the Easterner Staff of 1966, have tried to show you our feelings of Eastside High School and its students. This is the school's third year as Eastside and we have tried to show you the school and its activities just as they are. We hoped to provide for every reader a meaningful part of Eastside. We've tried to fulfill this hope although the work has mounted.

All of the pages of the Easterner are possible only through cooperation from the staff members. Every member worked hard and long to make this book a good one. We hope the reader will appreciate this book and thank the staff by realizing the time and effort that has gone into the pages of the Easterner.

We owe many thanks to Robert's Studio of Fort Wayne whose photographs appear in this book, to Principal Kent Myers, to the teachers for their cooperation and help, and to Alfred Sherer, our advisor, for his assistance.

We appreciate the support of the businessmen of Butler, St. Joe, Spencerville and surrounding areas. Besides helping us financially, they have inspired us to become better citizens.

Our aim has been to accurately portray the 1965-66 school year. Your enjoyment will be the finest award that can be given to the 1966 staff.

The journey along EASTSIDE 66 comes to an end.
